THIS WEEK IN THE PARISH

A few words from our Pastor:-

Some may say that life in a Parish Church affords some sense of stability in an unstable world. If we watch the news, we would notice that there is no shortage of uncertainty. However, nowhere does Jesus promise us protection from chaos, uncertainty, and doubt. He offers strength of faith to overcome.

Parish life is not meant to be a form of escapism. It is the front lines in our Christian engagement in the world. It does little good to speak of freedom or love in the world when we neglect such an amazing opportunity to practice these virtues in our own community. We will struggle and we will fail, but in Christ, the victory is already ours.

One small way in which we can live out mercy our community is how we welcome families and our elderly. I have mentioned the need for a new bathroom in our worship space. It is almost humorous how something so earthly can be so necessary to a faith community, but for a mother frantically changing a child while knowing that a line is forming, offering relief to the burdened comes in more ways than one.

God bless
